

ASSEMBLY CONSIDERS VARIETY OF MEASURES

RANGE FROM ANTI-CAPITAL PUNISHMENT TO LIVING COST REDUCTION

Storm is Expected to Break Today When the House Begins Consideration of Wet and Dry Legislation—Twelve Bills to be Called Up.

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—In the full before the storm which is expected to break tomorrow when the house begins consideration of wet and dry legislation, the Illinois legislature today had under consideration measures ranging from anti-capital punishment bills to a bill designed to reduce the cost of living. This is what was accomplished at today's session:

Governor Dunne, Bishop Fallows and Representative Lipshulch addressed the senate in favor of a bill abolishing capital punishment. The senate then spent the day debating the subject and adjourned without taking action. The debate will be continued tomorrow.

Mauker Bill is Defeated.
The Mauker bill adding an additional circuit court judge in each of the seventeen downstate judicial districts, was defeated in the house by a vote of 58 to 55. The measure carried an emergency clause and needed 102 votes for passage.

By striking out its enacting clause the house killed the bill placing Cook county employees under civil service. House passed the Tice bill permitting the incorporation of co-operative societies and association for the sale of foodstuffs and other necessities in an effort to reduce the cost of living. The Burris bill excluding public tuberculosis sanitariums from the provisions of the Juul tax act, was advanced to third reading by the house.

Advance "Wets" Bill.
In preparation for tomorrow's field day on wet and dry legislation the house advanced to second reading the "wets" bill giving municipalities home rule in handling the Sunday saloon question and repealing the township local operation act.

An even dozen wet and dry bills will be called up for consideration tomorrow by Speaker Shanahan. Of the dozen, ten of the bills were introduced by the "drys" and two by the "wets", the general impression seems to be that the wets and dries are deadlocked and that very few, if any, of the measures will be successful.

Under the provisions of the Tice bill, which seeks to reduce the cost of living, ten or more persons could petition for the incorporation of a co-operative association for the sale of necessities of life for profit. The bill was amended in committee so as to provide that no person could own more than ten per cent of the stock of such a co-operative association.

Expect Vote Today.
The speeches by Governor Dunne, Bishop Fallows and Representative Lipshulch, against capital punishment were delivered early this morning. Except for a short recess for lunch the debate continued unabated until six o'clock this evening when the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning with the subject still under consideration. It is expected that a vote will be had tomorrow.

Governor Dunne and Bishop Fallows both quoted statistics to show that the per cent of murders in states where capital punishment has been abolished is lower than in states where the death penalty obtains.

Set May 11 for Hearings.
The house today set May 11th, for the hearing on the Shurtliff child labor bill and the McCormick bill providing for a nine hour work day for women. All pension bills including the Chicago police and firemen's pension bills and the bill pensioning public school teachers were set for consideration on May 12th.

Representative Medill McCormick, chairman of the house public utilities committee, today wrote a letter to Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, asking that official whether it is his wish that the Chicago home rule bill give control of public utilities to the city council or to a commission to be appointed by the mayor.

Officials of the state reformatory at Pontiac would be empowered to work the prisoners of that institution in the manufacture of automobile license plates for the state under a bill recommended by the house roads committee today.

Four bills comprising the report of the state mining investigating commission appointed by the last assembly were introduced in the house today by Representative Turnbaugh. One provides stringent requirements for fire fighting equipment and other means of preventing and controlling fires and safeguarding lives in coal mines.

Another provides that applicants for the position of state mine inspector shall have had ten years practical experience in mining, five of which shall have been in Illinois.

Vote to Recommend Bill.
The senate committee on labor, mines and mining tonight held a public hearing on the bill creating a state employment exchange and then voted to report back the measure with the recommendation that it pass. A number of advocates of the bill were present and addressed the committee. Charges that loss adjusters of fire insurance companies have been appointed as deputy state fire marshals and that evidence taken by them has been turned over

LEWIS GIVES ANALYSIS OF THE RECENT ELECTION OF THOMPSON

States Issue Was Not Woodrow Wilson Nor the Policies of the National Administration.

Chicago, May 4.—As the principal speaker at a dinner given by friends tonight to former Mayor Carter H. Harrison, United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis said he deemed the season appropriate for an analysis of the recent election at which William Hale Thompson, Republican, was chosen mayor by a plurality of almost 150,000 votes.

"I do this to correct a statement made in certain quarters that the election of Mr. Thompson was a protest against the Wilson administration," said Senator Lewis. "The issue was not Woodrow Wilson nor the policies of the national administration. The Democrats who voted for Thompson did so under the impression that certain issues urged in behalf of the Democratic ticket were addressed against the president—that the vindication of the president would be in the defeat of the Democratic ticket."

After discussing local issues which he said influenced the voters Senator Lewis said:

"That disappointments in the Democratic party and discontent in the citizenship because of the oppressed financial condition did contribute a part is conceded, but too many Democrats believed that the election of the Democratic ticket would be held as a repudiation of the president and that defeat of the Democratic party was necessary as proof of vindication of the president and that election of the Republican ticket would be evidence of the refusal of the people to repudiate the president's neutrality policy before the European world and his international policies before America."

THIRTY-NINE DANVILLE SALOONS WILL OPEN FOR BUSINESS TODAY

Deposit License Fee and Decide to Open Although the City Council Again Refuses to Authorize the Issuance of Licenses.

Danville, Ill., May 4.—Thirty-nine of the seventy-two saloonkeepers of Danville deposited with City Clerk John Torrence, $800 each, the saloon license fee for one year in advance, and will open their places for business tomorrow morning, although the city council tonight again by a vote of 8 to 6 refused to authorize the issuance of licenses.

If arrests are made, as there probably will be, the matter will be taken to the courts for a decision. The saloon men claim that under a decision of the supreme court in the case of Prather vs. the People, from Cumberland county, eighty-fifth Illinois page 35, it is mandatory upon the city clerk to accept the license fee when tendered in advance for one year, and accompanied by good and sufficient bond, and to issue license.

City Clerk Torrence has taken the stand that he will not issue licenses until authorized to do so by the city council.

BOTH SIDES IN LABOR WAR AGREE TO MEET COMMITTEE

Session of Chicago Strike Arbitrators is Scheduled for Today.

Chicago, May 4.—Both sides of the labor war which has tied up building operations in Chicago and thrown out of employment wage earners whose number is estimated to exceed 150,000 agreed today to meet the city council committee appointed to try to bring about peace.

During the day the council committee offered their services as mediators to representatives of the carpenters and the contractors. A meeting of the arbitration committee of ten representing both sides of the dispute is scheduled for tomorrow. The carpenters agreed to meet the councilmen and any time after the conclusion of their meeting with the contractors. The contractors also agreed to a similar meeting.

TORPEDO TRAWLER

Aberdeen, May 4.—(10:20 p. m.)—The trawler Scottish Queen has been torpedoed and sunk by a submarine fifty miles off Aberdeen. The crew was landed here. The rescued men say they were given 15 minutes to leave their vessel, but subsequently were permitted to return to her and procure provisions.

COURT SUSTAINS IMPEACHMENT

Terre Haute, Ind., May 4.—Donn M. Roberts, who is serving a sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kans., for election frauds, was finally removed as mayor of Terre Haute late today. The Circuit Court sustained the action of the city council in impeaching Roberts.

GEN. CARRANZA EXPECTS PEACE IN MEXICO SOON

PROMISES COUNTRY WILL BE OPEN TO ALL HONEST FOREIGN INVESTORS

States That American Capital Especially Will be Welcomed—Will do Everything in His Power to Promote American Friendship.

Vera Cruz, May 4.—Promises that Mexico, after peace has been secured, which he expects will be soon, will be thrown open to all honest foreign investors and especially that American capital will be welcome were made by General Carranza in an authorized interview today. General Carranza said he wished to overcome what he believed was a growing feeling in the United States that the constitutionalists are opposed to foreigners. He also announced that he intended to restore railroad traffic to Mexico City as soon as the military operations against General Francisco Villa had ended.

Discusses Conditions at Length.
Seated in his headquarters in the lighthouse overlooking Vera Cruz Bay, the first chief of the constitutionalists talked at length of the present and future conditions of Mexico.

"The impression seem to prevail in the United States," said General Carranza, "that the constitutionalists are antagonistic toward foreigners. This is untrue. On the contrary, we purpose to throw Mexico open to all honest foreign capital as generously but more judiciously than was done under President Diaz. Recent events, such as the defeat of General Villa at important points, renew my confidence that the war will soon be ended. Then Mexico will start her reconstruction and will need legitimate foreign help. The resumption of industry will attract American capital which will be welcomed and protected."

"I will do everything in my power to promote American friendship. The constitutionalists have 70,000 soldiers and Villa less than half this number. We constantly are spreading our lines northward, leaving Mexico City to be easily re-taken by us at any time."

To Open Railroad Soon.
"How soon before you expect to restore traffic to Mexico City and permit foreigners there to have relief and a chance to resume business?" General Carranza was asked.

"Just as soon as Villa is driven farther, possibly after another Villa defeat," was the reply. "It is a matter of a very short time. I do not think there is a possibility of the revolution lasting six months longer. As an instance of our progress I call attention to the fact that we have sent a commission to New York to buy three more armed transports, one to assist on the Pacific coast and two for the gulf of Mexico. This commission is due in New York next Sunday. Another commission will arrive in New York simultaneously to act on the foreign oil interests."

"Indeed, we are taking steps already for future foreign and industrial relations. Our hope is that the United States soon will see fit to give us recognition. This will do much to end the war."

WAR IS COSTING GREAT BRITAIN TEN MILLION AND A HALF DAILY

LONDON, May 4.—(9:30 p. m.)—In one of the shortest budget speeches on record, he being on his feet a little over an hour, David Lloyd-George, the Chancellor of the exchequer, today gave the British public further insight into what the war is costing the nation.

The expenditure at present, Mr. Lloyd-George said, was 2,100,000 pounds ($3,150,000) daily and he added that if the war continued for a year Great Britain's bill would be upward of one billion pounds sterling (about $5,000,000,000).

The debt of the country, according to Mr. Lloyd-George, already had been almost doubled and stood well over the $5,000,000,000 mark. The chancellor declined to predict the length of the war.

WILSON DISCUSSES WRECKING OF GULFIGHT WITH CABINET

In the Absence of a Detailed Report on the Incident no Policy is Formulated.

Washington, May 4.—President Wilson discussed briefly with his cabinet today the torpedoing of the American Steamer Gulflight off the Sicily Islands, but in the absence of a detailed report on the incident, no policy was formulated. Messages received from American Consul Stephens at Plymouth and Consul General Skinner at London added little to the information previously obtained. Both were instructed today to get complete statements from members of the ship's crew and to gather such evidence of a technical nature concerning the damage done to the ship as could be learned by an examination of the vessel on its arrival in port.

CONCEDE DAHLMAN'S ELECTION

Omaha, Neb., May 4.—Five of the present commissioners were re-elected in the municipal election held today. John C. Drexel and Walter S. Jardine were chosen as aldermen, commissioners. J. B. Hummel, park commissioner, polled the greatest number of votes. It is generally conceded that Mayor J. C. Dahlman will again be chosen mayor.

War News Summarized

From the east again comes the report of fighting which, because of its sanguinary character and the consequent heavy losses, gives that section of the great war zones, the chief place in the war news of the day. This time, it is the Turkish allies of the Teutonic contenders who are said to have been the loser. They are declared by Petrograd to have been completely defeated by the Russians in the Kloro-Dilman region of the Caucasus, leaving more than 3,500 dead on the field and their survivors to be fleeing before the Muscovites. The full details of the defeat of the Russians by the Austro-German forces along the Nida river, from the Vistula southward through the Carpathians, have not yet come to hand but Vienna declares that the Russians lost in the operations 39,000 men taken prisoners and 22 cannon 64 machine guns and a quantity of war materials.

On the western battle front the Germans claim the capture in Flanders of Zeevotte, Zonnebeke Westhoek, the forest of Polygonous and Nonnebosschen and to have caught the retreating allies under a flank fire from their batteries in the northeast of Ypres. A readjustment of the British line, according to the London war office, brings the allies line to the west of Zonnebeke.

The British admiralty assert that the allies have repulsed the attacks of the Turks everywhere on the Gallipoli peninsula, inflicting enormous losses upon them.

Turks, on the contrary, say that the advance near Avlun was stopped and the British driven back with heavy losses to the coast. In addition, Constantinople asserts that the British battleship Agamemnon was struck by four shells and forced to retire from the operations inside the Dardanelles and that an allied transport was set on fire by Turk guns.

MAKE MILITARY PREPARATIONS FOR THE DEFENSE OF PEKING

Officials Declare They are Suspicious That the Japanese May Attempt a Repetition of the Korean Coup d'etat.

Peking, May 5.—Military preparations are being made for the defense of Peking, according to Chinese officials whose statements have been corroborated in other circles. The government is making no preparations elsewhere than at the capital for the defense, considering that the Chinese will be unable to oppose the Japanese should they make an attack. It is asserted in high quarters that one hundred thousand troops have been concentrated in the environs of Peking but with sufficient ammunition for only a brief resistance. Special police and military precautions have been taken throughout the city especially around the winter palace where President Yuan Shi Kai resides. The officials declare that they are suspicious that the Japanese may attempt a repetition of the Korean coup d'etat.

GERMAN AIRSHIP SINKS BRITISH SUBMARINE

Berlin, May 4.—Via London—May 5.—(12:05 a. m.)—The following official communication was issued tonight:

"On May 3d a German naval airship had an engagement with several British submarines in the North Sea. Several bombs were dropped from the airship, one of them hitting and sinking one of the submarines."

"The airship was bombarded by the guns of the submarines without being hit. It returned safely."

RE-ELECT MAYOR PRESTON.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—Mayor James H. Preston, Democrat was re-elected at the municipal election today by an estimated majority of about 15,000 over his Republican opponent, Charles H. Heintzman. The remainder of the ticket was carried by the Democratic candidates by about the same majorities and both branches of the city council will be overwhelmingly Democratic. Mayor Preston's majority is the largest ever given a candidate in this city.

SEVENTY-FIVE STRIKE.

Zion City, May 4.—Seventy-five union workmen employed in the lace factory here went on strike this afternoon. A meeting of the union is expected to be held tomorrow at which the members will vote on the question to make the strike general. There are about 700 persons employed in the factory. The men who struck today said their action was a protest against the alleged employment of unskilled boys to do the work of the union men.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN GOES UPON WITNESS STAND

EDWARD PLATT AND FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT ALSO TESTIFY

Colonel Uses an Hour and a Half Correcting Errors Made in Transcribing His Previous Testimony—Will Resume Stand This Morning.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 4.—Theodore Roosevelt again went upon the witness stand in the supreme court here today after many witnesses, including a son and also a former secretary of the late Thomas C. Platt and Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, had testified in his behalf. The former president intended under a new ruling of the court to offer testimony designed to show that he harbored no malice for William Barnes. It also was his intention to tell about certain things not specified in the pleadings, which, under the original ruling were excluded. But errors committed in transcribing his testimony under direct and cross examination were pointed out. So the colonel used up nearly an hour and a half of the afternoon session in correcting them. His counsel planned to have him resume the stand in the morning. Edward T. Platt son of the former senator who testified, produced letters that passed between his father and Mr. Barnes in which the printing business and politics appeared to be more or less linked.

Denounced Lemuel Quigg.
In these letters Mr. Barnes denounced Lemuel E. Quigg, who he wrote, was interested in a contract for legislative printing. He also wrote that he was against the establishment of another printing plant in Albany and complained that Archibald Baxter, clerk of the assembly in 1894, was about "to deprive him of a legitimate piece of patronage" in the form of printing, as punishment for having supported Levi P. Morton for governor.

In nearly every letter, politics or printing or both were discussed. The former secretary of Senator Platt was Thomas S. Huff, who said that during 1901, 1902 and 1903, he read every letter his employer mailed or received. The witness said that virtually all the correspondence between Mr. Barnes and his employer was in regard "to Mr. Barnes' printing interests in Albany."

Franklin Roosevelt Testifies.
Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the state senate when a deadlock finally resulted in the election of James A. O'Gorman as United States senator. He said under oath that he had told Mr. Barnes of a conversation with Sen. Brady, organization Democrat, in which the senator asserted he understood Mr. Barnes had an agreement with Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall that the Republican should hold out for Chauncey D. Pew and thus give the Democrats an opportunity to elect William F. Sheehan. The witness added that he had asked Mr. Barnes whether the deadlock could not be ended. Mr. Barnes, he said, replied: "No, we can't do it now."

Contrary to the expectation of spectators and the original plans of counsel, Mr. Barnes did not go upon the stand.

Subpoena Robert F. Wagner.
Albany, N. Y., May 4.—Robert F. Wagner, Democratic leader of the state senate, was subpoenaed tonight as a witness in the Barnes-Roosevelt trial. He will be notified when he is required.

It is not known on what phase of the case Wagner's testimony is desired. As an assemblyman he voted for the race track bill and as a senator voted to oust Stephen J. Stillwell, a Democrat, who now is serving a term in prison for attempted bribery. He also was in the senate when Senator O'Gorman was sent to the United States senate. Reports were current tonight that both former Governor Glynn and Albert E. Smith, Democratic leader of the assembly, had been subpoenaed. Glynn denied the report. Smith is in New York.

CHICAGO FIRMS TO SEND TRADE REPRESENTATIVE TO RUSSIA

CHICAGO, May 4.—Fourteen firms all members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association agreed today to join a project to send M. S. Hill to Petrograd, Russia, as a trade representative. According to John M. Glenn, secretary of the association, between thirty and fifty concerns are expected to join the project.

It was estimated the activities of Mr. Hill would cost his employers $15,000 per annum. Formerly he represented the Chicago association of commerce in Australia and prior to that for eighteen years was a trade representative in China and Japan.

DESCRIBES SAVING OF CHRISTOBOL

Washington, May 4.—How American soldiers and sailors saved Christobol and large property in Colon from destruction by the fire which swept the latter city last Friday and afterwards pitched tents, cared for the homeless people, was described in cable advices today from Brig. Gen. Edwards, commanding the military forces on the canal zone.

BRITISH STEAMER SINKS.

Brest, via London, May 4.—(11:45 p. m.)—The British Steamer Eldon of Leith struck a rock today south of Helle and sank. The crew was saved by a fishing boat.

TO TREAT HIGHLAND PARK LEPRO AT A STATE INSTITUTION

Dr. Zeller Will Take Charge of the Afflicted Italian Today and Will Decide Which Hospital He Will Be Taken to.

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—Angelo Lunardi, a leper, whose presence at Highland Park for several weeks has been looked upon as a fearsome thing by the residents, is to be treated at a state institution. This was announced tonight by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health, who said that Dr. George Zeller, member of the state board of administration, will take charge of the afflicted Italian tomorrow.

Need Not Be Apprehensive.
Inmates of the institution where Lunardi is to be taken (Dr. Zeller is to decide which it shall be) need not be apprehensive, Dr. Drake said tonight.

"The great fear of the American people for this Oriental disease is largely due to ignorance," Dr. Drake said. "There are a number of contagious diseases, smallpox, for instance, for which they should have a more wholesome dread. Leprosy is born in filth. Lunardi will be given clean surroundings, he will be kept clean and fed clean food and, in all likelihood, something other than leprosy will cause his death."

Is a New Departure.
"The step we are taking is absolutely a new departure in handling leprosy in the United States. The treatment involves no danger to anyone and it will be educational."

When it was found that a skin eruption from which Lunardi was suffering was leprosy the people at Highland Park demanded his immediate removal. The government tried to arrange his deportation but could not because the steamship company which brought him from Italy was put out of business by the war and no other transportation company would return him to his native country. He was due to board at the expense of Highland Park, until peace was declared, when the state board of health decided to treat him.

TO PROBE RECENT ELECTIONS HELD IN KANSAS CITY, KAN.

Gov. Capper Says City "May Make Terre Haute Look Like a Sunday School Town."

Topeka, Kans., May 4.—"Kansas City, Kans., may make Terre Haute look like a Sunday school town," said Governor Capper today, after he had announced that he would conduct an investigation of recent elections held in Kansas City. The governor recently asked for the resignation of Henry T. Zimmer, election commissioner of Kansas City, Kans., and announced his intention of investigating conditions in that city after Zimmer today refused to resign.

Governor Capper said the investigation promised to involve men prominent in the affairs of both the Republican and Democratic parties. It was announced that more than forty complaints had been filed with the governor.

WILSON DECLINES TO FURNISH COPIES OF CORRESPONDENCE

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Wilson today declined to furnish the federal industrial relations commission with copies of correspondence between himself and Governor Ammons of Colorado which had been requested by Basil M. Manly, representing the commission "to complete its record" of its investigation into the Colorado coal strike. Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission, in a statement issued recently claimed that a representative of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had prepared a letter to be sent by Governor Ammons to the president on the strike situation. Governor Ammons later denied that Mr. Rockefeller or his representatives had anything to do with preparing any of his communications. In transmitting the refusal to the commission, Secretary Tumulty merely stated that the president did not deem it advisable to give publicity to the letters.

AMERICAN POULTRY ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN SAN FRANCISCO

PEORIA, May 4.—By a majority of nearly one thousand votes, San Francisco was awarded the fortieth annual meeting of the American Poultry association today. Over 2,000 votes were cast by mail, Detroit being the only competitor for the meeting. It will be held the third week in November.

E. E. Richards, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was elected president. Other officers are A. A. Peters, Denver, Colorado, and Joseph Russell, Toronto, vice-presidents and S. T. Campbell, Mansfield, O., secretary.

TAKE WALSH TO HOSPITAL.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—Ed. Walsh, the Chicago American League pitcher who was reported much improved today, was taken to a hospital tonight. The physician attending Walsh maintained that the big pitcher was suffering only from grippa, that he was in no danger and was taken to the hospital merely because he would receive better care there than in hotel apartments.

RUSS INFLICT SEVERE DEFEAT ON OTTOMANS

TURKS WHO INVADED PERSIA ARE BADLY BEATEN

Austro-German Forces Claim Capture of 30,000 Muscovites in Galicia—Turks Continue to Report Defeat of Landing Parties in the Dardanelles.

London, May 4.—(10:30 p. m.)—The Russians have had at least a partial revenge for the defeat inflicted upon them in Western Galicia by the Austrians and Germans by badly beating the Turks who had invaded Persia. The defeat took place in a three days' battle near the frontier and Petrograd reports that the Russians inflicted heavy losses on the Ottomans. If the success of the Muscovites has been followed up by military observers declare that Persia now should be free of her uninvited guests.

Capture Thirty Thousand.
This battle however was a small affair when compared with what Germany and Austria claim they have done to the Russians in Galicia. Their reports tonight state that some thirty thousand Russians were captured and that a large number of guns were taken.

There was no mention, however, of any towns, such as Gorlice and Tarnow, which were close to the front, being captured, which leads the British military critics to the conclusion, that, while the Germanic allies have won important local successes, they have not driven the Russians very far back. Should they succeed in doing this, however, it is asserted that a general retreat of the Russians would be imperative and that the whole Carpathian offensive, on which the Muscovites have spent so much time and so many lives, would be completely nullified.

Await Russian Story.

The Russian side of the story is awaited with anxiety for a big success in the east, it is believed here, would mean an immediate commencement of operations on a large scale in the west for which the Germans are making preparations. In Belgium thus far the fighting has been confined to the Ypres region, where the Germans claim to have captured some villages which the British say they evacuated in the process of re-adjusting their line. The rumors concerning the operations against the Dardanelles were confirmed tonight when the British war office and admiralty issued reports stating that allied forces had taken the offensive on the Gallipoli peninsula and now were advancing into the interior.

Continue to Claim Successes.
The Turks, on their side, continue to report the defeat of landing parties and damage done to allied warships, which are keeping up a lively bombardment of the Turkish forts both in the Dardanelles straits and at Smyrna. It was reported today that the Vail of Smyrna was negotiating with the allies for the surrender of his territory. No confirmation of this report has been received. The Germans say they have made further progress with their raid into the Baltic provinces of Russia and that they have defeated the Russians there as well as along the East Prussian frontier.

The result of the German submarine warfare today was the sinking of the Steamer Minterne and two crawlers.

BRYAN'S BROTHER PROBABLY WILL BE LINCOLN'S NEXT MAYOR

LINCOLN, Neb., May 4.—Charles W. Bryan, brother of William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state, was today elected one of the five city commissioners of Lincoln and will probably be the next mayor. With returns nearly complete he has a lead of 700 votes over Frank C. Zehring, the present mayor. Three of the old commissioners—George Dayton, William Schroeder and T. F. Henley—were re-elected. The fifth is John Wright, a new man.

The five commissioners designate the mayor and all are understood to be for Mr. Bryan.

TAKE GERMAN TO RIGA.

Riga, Russia, via London, May 4.—(9:55 p. m.)—Three German officers and 59 men with one gun and two machine guns and accompanied by two guides, were brought here today. They evidently are a part of the German force which has raided the Baltic provinces.

Dry members of the legislature have become lynx eyed, so intent has been their study of the various wet measures introduced in the legislature. They spend their time looking for jokers in harmless appearing bills and quite frequently find them. They have just declared that in their opinion the so called "home rule" bill would give the right to city councils to grant licenses to saloons in dry territory if they so desired.

The change in school management which abolishes the principalship of the high school has necessarily meant the removal of Principal Stone from Jacksonville, a fact which is greatly regretted by a large number of school patrons. Those who have been in close touch with Mr. Stone's work consider him a very able and tactful school official. No matter what the success of the new plan, the services of Miss Laura White as principal of the eighth grade building will be greatly missed. In that position Miss White has been more than principal or teacher. She has been the friend of her pupils and has exerted a most helpful influence upon the lives of a very large number of Jacksonville boys and girls.

The majority of the people who have commented upon the action taken by the Board of Education Monday night seem to feel that nearly all of the changes were made for the betterment of the school system and the general good. There are those however who believe that it is not practical to combine the duties of superintendent of schools and principal of the high school basing their opinion upon trials given the plan in former years. But the most reasonable view is that the plan represents the best thought of those who have promulgated it and that its success cannot be judged in advance. The superintendent in carrying out the plan will be entitled to the support of the teachers and the patrons of the schools.

In the general assembly yesterday the extra judge bill which would have provided a fourth judge in each of judicial circuits in Illinois failed to secure the necessary number of votes and did not pass. The success of the bill would have provided additional judges and made it possible for greater promptness in the dispatch of court work and would have cost the taxpayers of the state $85,000 annually. Local Democrats had figured that if a fourth judge were granted in this district that he should properly be apportioned to Morgan county. Sangamon, Greene and Macoupin to wait at least six years more for any recognition in this line.

New Census Plan.

The Census Bureau has established a new precedent by enumerating, at local request and expense, the population of a city between census years. This was done last month at Tulsa, Okla., under authority of a Presidential order, and as a result the population of that city on April 15, 1915, was officially announced a few days ago as 28,240, exclusive of 1,385 persons living on "Indian" the city but politically distinct from the city but politically distinct from it. The increase between 1910 and 1915 was 55 per cent.

Wanted in the Paper.

An Indiana man went into a newspaper office the other day and told of an escapade in which he had lately figured. It reflected no credit upon him; in fact, it was in the nature of a scandal, but he wanted it printed.

The fellow said that where "reports" were circulated, and he knew that the report would be circulated, they were not nearly so accurate as where they were printed in the paper. People who pass gossip from lip to lip are not nearly so accurate as the daily newspaper. So to prevent great exaggeration of the escapade he desired the facts printed in the paper and given to the world, because the world would be certain to get hold of the matter anyway and to exaggerate it.

And the man was correct. Less harm is done parties through the publication of "reports" in newspapers than by having them peddled about the streets by irresponsible persons who do not know the facts.

New Method of Fighting Vice.

A brand new kind of court, in which the social problem is to be dealt with scientifically, is underway in Philadelphia. The "Misdemeanors Court" will deal with the problem of fallen women. Judge Charles L. Brown, who presides, declares his belief that most of the women who come before the courts on account of vice are physically in such condition that they are unable to lead lives of any other sort. He will treat the women primarily as patients in need of medical attention, rather than as criminals. Doctors will make examination of the women to ascertain their sanity and general physical condition. If medical attention and kindness will aid in the reform of women, they will get it from the court instead of sentences. The police department, the district attorney, and all the civic and reform organizations are interested in the new movement.

A Democratic Blunder.

One of the blunders of the present administration is now before the Court of Customs Appeals, and a decision is looked for at an early date. The court is expected to interpret the meaning of the provision in the Underwood Tariff bill proposing to give a five per cent discount in customs duties on merchandise imported in American vessels. Thus far that clause has failed in its purpose, just as the tariff measure of which it is a part failed to provide adequate revenue.

Enacted October 13, 1912, it failed on its first test, and that test applied, too, by the then Attorney General less than 30 days after the bill was signed.

No sooner had the tariff bill been presented to the Secretary of the Treasury for administration than a doubt arose in his mind as to the validity of the five per cent discount provision. He appealed for advice to Attorney General McReynolds, who is now on the Supreme court bench. The provision was pronounced inoperative.

"The five per cent discount to American vessels cannot be given," is the language of the Secretary, "without impairing the stipulations of existing treaties between the United States and various other powers and consequently the subsection is inoperative."

Acting on this opinion the Secretary of the Treasury issued an order to customs collectors, instructing them to make no allowance of discount on duties under this provision. Importers who had relied on the law appealed to the Board of General Appraisers. Their ruling resulted in further confusion, and neither side being satisfied, the case was taken to the Court of Customs Appeals, more than a year after the law had passed.

The Democratic Committee report on the five per cent provision defined it as "a discrimination in favor of American shipping, designed to build up our merchant marine and keep at home millions of dollars now being paid to foreign vessels to carry our products to foreign markets."

Yet although they fully realized the tremendous importance of this measure which they said involved millions of dollars, they lacked the foresight to consult their own Attorney General as to the possibility of enacting it into law. They had a vague idea of what they wanted, adopted a vague method of trying to secure it, and by careless guess work threw the whole matter into the courts.

TWO ROW CULTIVATOR.

The time will soon be here, to start cultivation of the young corn plant and a few items on the work, might be a benefit to some.

It is a good plan to harrow, after planting and also just before cultivation, this puts the soil in fine condition and makes cultivation more effective, with any kind of a cultivator.

In the last ten years, I have handled over 100 two row cultivators in the field, shop and sample rooms. I am the first person to start a two row in the Russian empire. The two row is not much in favor in Central Illinois and I attribute this to a misunderstanding of the implement. In selecting a two row cultivator, most of the old standard makes are good. In trying out a two row, use it at least one-half day, in the first round or two, the operator is thoroughly disgusted and wants to quit.

This is a critical time for the agent and customer alike, but if the customer can be induced to continue for one-half day, he will be better pleased. Most of the large corn ranches are using them in the corn belt and is evident they are profitable. Some complain they cannot watch two rows at once, this can be done with practice as well as one row. The better condition the soil, the better work can be done. Three good horses, well broke, are generally sufficient, but 4 or 5 can be used.

A two row cultivator is very sensitive to the movement, the wheels being angled the same time, the gangs are shifted, this is done by foot treadles operated from the seat. The horses may be walking on the row, yet the gangs can be kept in right position.

The wheels may be locked and made rigid for transportation. Any kind of gangs may be used, also surface attachment can be procured, a small cost, and makes a complete surface cultivator. Some object to crossing with a two row.

There is no excuse at the present day, with the present perfection of the corn planter, for an imperfect drop, but with the two row, a hill six inches out of drop, can be passed safely.

The two row makes a good showing on the sample floor and can be set so customer can use it as in the field. Follow the planter, the rows are uniform in width but if you have to cultivate after a single row planter, an attachment can be used to widen or narrow the gangs without stopping the horses.

If one is intending to use a two row cultivator, he should prepare his field with that intention.

REPORT RENEWED FIGHTING IN THE MEXICAN OIL REGIONS

Message From Vera Cruz States Villa Forces Have Captured Panuca—Details are not Received.

Washington, May 4.—Renewed fighting in the Mexican oil regions near Tampico was reported to the state department today in messages from Vera Cruz which said Villa forces had captured Panuca, about 50 miles southwest of Tampico.

Officials of the British embassy here displayed considerable anxiety over these reports recalling that shell fire during the fighting near Ebano a month ago had ignited some of the British owned wells on which the British warships depend for oil. Further information was sought by embassy officials at the state department but the department had no details of the fighting.

BAND CONCERT WILL ATTRACT MANY TO THE GRAND TONIGHT

Director Jeffries Has Prepared Program of Unusual Excellence—Organization Deserves Hearty Support.

This evening the people of Jacksonville are to have a double privilege, that of enjoying a rare musical treat at a very moderate cost and next that of aiding a highly worthy enterprise, the Jeffries concert band. The program to be given at the opera house will include two numbers by Miss Louise B. Miller whose rare talent as a vocalist is too well known to need extended comment.

With his usual excellent taste and judgment Director Jeffries has selected a variety of numbers to be presented tonight and all who are so fortunate as to hear them will enjoy a rare treat. Among the symphonic compositions to be given are Schubert's Unfinished Symphony, The Largo from Dvorak's World Symphony and the Safranek Suite-Atlan-tis. Prof. Jeffries has been working with his forty musicians most assiduously and they have attained a degree of excellence possible only with talented performers who have worked hard and faithfully.

It is needless surely to say that the band is an honor to Jacksonville and that it deserves the support of our citizens. This city cannot afford to have the band go without support and encouragement and when we remember that the event tonight with such choice attractions is to cost but 50 cents for downstairs and first two rows in the balcony and 25 cents for the rest of the balcony it would seem that every seat should be taken before the curtain rises.

COMMUNITY TRAINING SCHOOL CLOSURES YEAR WITH BANQUET

Dr. R. P. Shepherd of Chicago Tells of Progress in Religious Instruction and Faculty and Friends Speak in Hopeful Vein.

The Bible, better understood and knowledge of the Bible more widely diffused was the ideal held forth last evening by speakers at the first annual banquet of the Community Training School. The banquet was held at the First Baptist church and the "Amoma" class served the luncheon. Members of the faculty were heard in brief talks and the principal address was made by Dr. R. P. Shepherd of Chicago, director of the educational department, Illinois Sunday School Association. "In the last six months," said Dr. Shepherd, "religious instruction for the school child has made considerable progress." For the past three months in Paris, Ill. all Sunday school work done by pupils of high school age has been received and credit given toward graduation. Conditions for this work have been worked out by local high school authorities in conjunction with members of the ministerial association.

"In one Chicago residence district boys and girls stop at churches in the morning on their way to public school and receive religious instruction. They attend a twenty-minute chapel exercise and proceed to school, better fitted for the duties of the day. The idea is growing and it may not be long until in other cities the practice will be followed and the first recitation period for all students possible may be used as a time for religious instruction. This work will be in charge of pastors and special teachers and will have no direct connection with the public school, though co-ordinated with it perfectly." Dr. Shepherd does not desire religious instruction in the public schools by public school teachers. Religious teaching of some kind and of such a nature as to be recognized by school authorities, he deems imperative.

Immediately after the luncheon addresses were made by the Rev. W. E. Spooner, Dr. R. O. Post, lecturer for the first term; Prof. C. A. R. Stone, the second term teacher, and by Prof. R. H. Tanner, dean of the school. The words of each rang with optimism and the prospects for successful work next year seem good indeed. Carl H. Weber, president of the school, was chairman of the evening. In the discussion which followed Dr. Shepherd's address brief talks were made by Mrs. E. O. Mayer, Miss Mary Anderson, Miss Ruby Neville and the Rev. Percy W. Stephens.

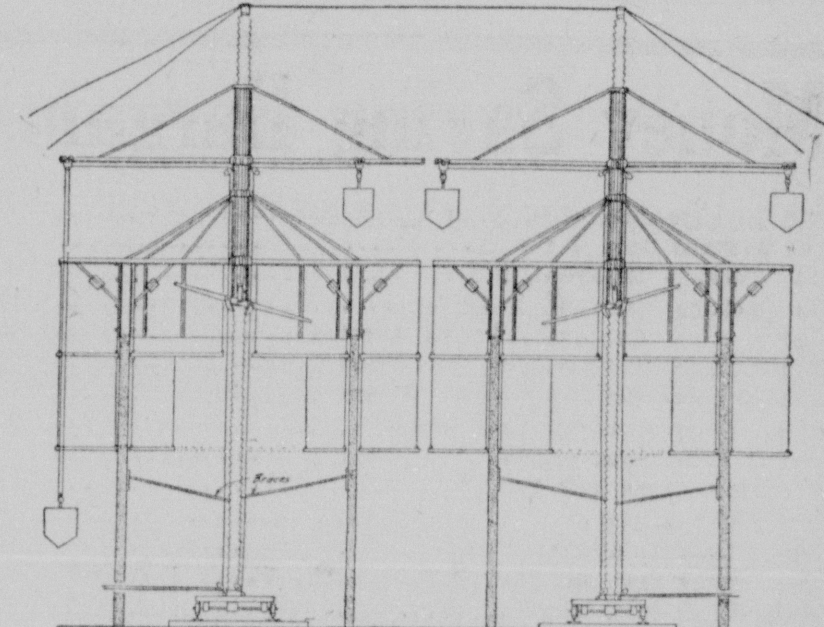

Mrs. W. T. Spires was chairman of the supper committee and Mrs. Joseph Jackson had charge of the dining room. The serving was done by young ladies of the church.

MOTORCYCLES COME BACK. Nine motorcycle riders left the city for a jaunt to Springfield Sunday when roads were good and weather favorable and nine cyclists returned Sunday evening minus machines. Most of the motors were left in Springfield but a few chanced the rain and two riders were caught at Curran while a third made good his return as far as Bates. Mrs. Ernest Frost, John Evans, John Mitcheson, Porter Corrington and Eckhoff of Chapin rounded up some of the machines and returned them to Jacksonville Tuesday, none the worse.

PRESIDENT RODGERS DECLARES HE HAS NO BOARD LINE-UP

Made Unusual Ruling Monday Night
Because He Believed Time to Make Appointments Had Arrived—Is Ready to Vote With Any Member in Interest of Schools.

The very unexpected action taken by the board of education Monday night was the theme of a great deal of conversation Tuesday. There was some criticism for the president of the board and the members who took the action, but in general the majority of the people seemed to have the feeling that while possibly the legality of the procedure might be questioned, that there was an intent to reduce expenses and increase efficiency in the school work. President Rodgers in conversation about the board action, and he had many such conversations during the day, said that he would like it to be understood that in the transaction of board of education business he was playing "no favorites." He said that there was no cut and dried plan or agreement before the meeting Monday night with Members Clampt and Wells.

Finding that Mr. Imgrund, as well as Mr. Rogerson, was out of the city, he told the two members present that it was his judgment to go ahead with the meeting and that if they had anything to present for action to do so and that if it met with his approval he would vote for it, and if it did not that he would vote against it. He said the proposed changes in the operation of the school system had not been discussed with him, but that the plan sounded to him as being a step toward economy and also to be making changes to meet certain conditions in the schools which he had heard criticised in times past. He said that in the matter of the appointment of teachers and employees that he had not been consulted—that he did not know the names proposed until they were read at the board meeting Monday night, and did not know the changes made except those pointed out when the report was presented.

Appointments Imperative.
Continuing, Mr. Rodgers said, "My action in declaring that it was possible for two members and the president to proceed with the business of the board was taken because that seemed to me the sensible course. I have long entertained the feeling that it was radically wrong to postpone the appointment of teachers until such a late date that they do not have an opportunity to secure employment elsewhere if they are released. Neither does it seem to me reasonable that the absence of two members from a regular meeting, about which they are fully advised, should tie up the whole business of the board. I have by no means formed any working combination with any two members of the board, and have no reason for unkindness toward any member."

"If there was any wrong action taken at the meeting Monday night, which will not be beneficial for the schools, if I can be shown this by members absent at that session, I will be glad to vote with them to rescind the action. I don't consider at all that the rights of the absent members were infringed upon, but we simply proceeded to do the business of the schools promptly, as in my opinion it should be done. In future matters when there is a division of the board I will vote with those members who seem to me have taken the right stand, and I am not obligated in any way to any special two members of the board and have no more reason for working with any two members than you might name than with two others."

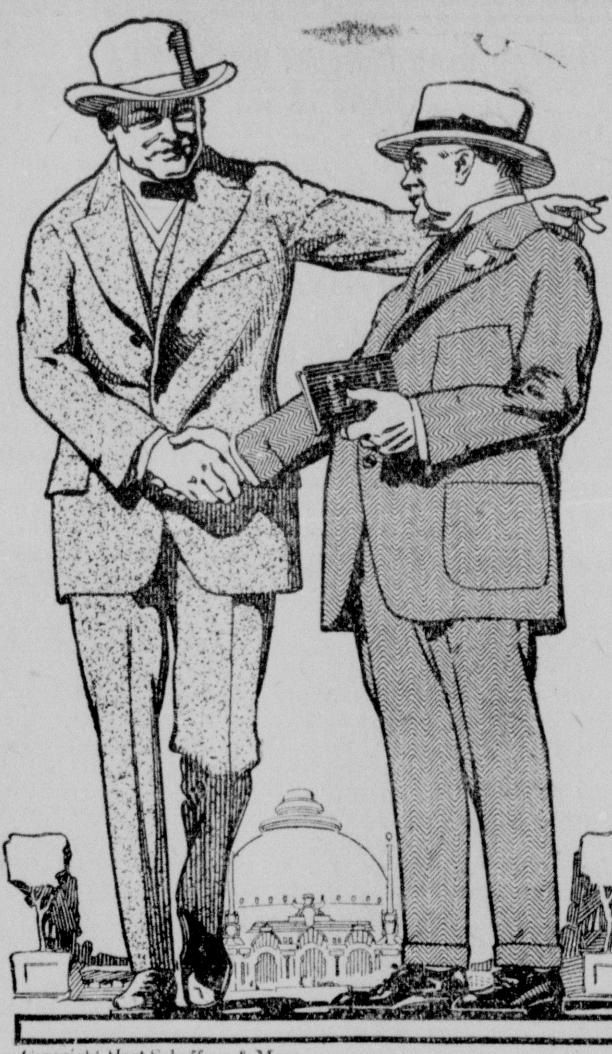

"I want to see the time when all the members of the board are working together, and I hope there is not to be a period of strife or bickering. Any personal feeling there may be between any members of the board or any of the school officers or teachers, has nothing to do with the case so far as the management of the schools is concerned, and if such differences exist they should be settled outside of board meetings and affairs."

Believes in Open Air School.
The report presented Monday night abolished the services of the professional nurse, but this did not mean that the board is not in sympathy with the open air school. Speaking for myself, I am nearly in favor of the school and believe it is doing a necessary and salutary work. The action taken provides for the payment of a teacher and an assistant teacher, simply leaving the services of a professional nurse, if a nurse is retained, to be paid for from some other source. The only reason for this action was from the fact that the board figured that the expense included in the budget for the pay of the teachers at the open air school was all that the money available for school purposes would make possible.

"And talking about board affairs I have no hesitation in saying that I believe the schools of Jacksonville should be operated under the general law instead of the special charter. A larger board elected at large would more equally represent the city and the president of the board would be elected also. I am in favor of this plan and will work to have it adopted."

CENTENARY CHURCH MAY
RAVE APARTMENT HOUSE
The trustees of Centenary M. E. church have been considering the removal of the parsonage, situated just east of the church, to the vacant lot back of the church, facing East Morgan street. The new apartment house built on the old site is to consist of four flats and to be modern in every way. Nothing has been done definitely about the matter, the trustees only getting to gether and seeing if there was anything to be gained by such a move.

MODEL CONSTITUTION FOR PARENT-TEACHER'S ASSOCIATION

The following model constitution for a parent-teacher's club has been proposed for the organization of the high school parent-teacher's association, a preliminary meeting having been recently held:

Article 1.—This society shall be called the Parent-Teachers' Club of the Jacksonville High School.

Article 2.—Its object shall be to better mutual understanding between parents and teachers and their co-operation in all work for the interest of the pupils.

Article 3.—Any one interested in the purpose for which the club is organized is qualified for membership.

Article 4.—The officers of the club shall be a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer, elected annually at the June meeting.

Article 5.—Regular meetings of the club shall be held on the Thursday of each month. Special meetings by order of the president, or on written request of four members.

Article 6.—This constitution may be amended at any annual meeting or by unanimous consent at any regular meeting when previous notice has been given.

The by-laws should contain standing rules of the society of such importance that they should be placed out of the power of any one meeting to modify, as dues, duties of officers, method of election, etc.

Suggested By-laws for the Club.

1.—The regular hour of meeting shall be from 8 o'clock to 9 o'clock. Meetings shall begin and close promptly on time.

2.—There shall be no dues or assessments, except by special vote of the club.

3.—All officers shall be elected by ballot.

4.—All committees shall be appointed by the president.

5.—There shall be a program committee of three members, a social committee of five members and a press reporter.

6.—The program committee shall have charge of all regular programs, and shall be responsible for the carrying out of the program at all regular sessions, and shall be responsible for the carrying out of the program at all the regular club meetings.

7.—The social committee shall look after the social interests of the club. They shall encourage the personal meeting of parents and teachers before and after the regular programs and shall also provide at least two evening meetings during the school year. In these meetings the social committee and program committee shall co-operate.

8.—The press reporter shall furnish the local papers with a report of each meeting, such report to be furnished to the papers not later than noon of the day following the meeting.

9.—The regular program for the club meeting should usually be: (a) Call to order. (b) Reading of the minutes of previous meeting. (c) A talk by a teacher on some phase of school work (or a model recitation conducted before the club). (d) A talk by a parent. (e) General discussion. (f) Occasional addresses by prominent persons outside of the district. (g) Reports of committees. (h) Unfinished business. (i) New business. (j) Adjournment.

10.—These by-laws may be amended by a majority vote at any regular meeting, notice having been given at the regular meeting preceding.

REMEMBER LINCOLN'S FUNERAL SERVICES

CITIZENS RECALL IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES OF FIFTY YEARS AGO.

State Capital Was Visited by Immense Throng Gathered to Honor Memory of the Dead President—Incidents of the Day are Recalled.

Fifty years ago yesterday the final funeral services in memory of Abraham Lincoln were held in Springfield. Many from Morgan county attended the services and the Capital City was filled to overflowing with people gathered from all quarters to pay homage to the memory of the martyr president. Yesterday the Journal printed a request for the names of persons resident here who remembered attending the funeral. Some of those heard from are mentioned below but it is known that a great many other residents here joined in the general mourning.

A Lincoln Enthusiast in 1860. Charles Gibbs, Sr., whose home is on the mound three miles west of Jacksonville, said yesterday that he well remembered attending the funeral of Abraham Lincoln in Springfield just fifty years ago. Mr. Gibbs said that he was twenty-two years of age at the time, and that he was accompanied by Alfred P. Shirliff and Piery Dickinson of Lynnville, both now deceased. Mr. Gibbs said he well remembered the great crowd which thronged Springfield on that day. He said that because of uncertainty as to Mrs. Lincoln's wishes in the matter it was not decided until the day of the funeral whether the remains should be interred in Oak Ridge cemetery or on the grounds of the state capitol.

According to his recollection a vault had been prepared in each place because the committee in charge of the arrangements were not fully advised of Mrs. Lincoln's wishes. Mr. Gibbs has been an ardent Republican all his life. His father, Robert Gibbs, was a great admirer of Lincoln and so it was natural that the son should have the same opinion of the great American, and he now remembers with pride that he belonged to the "Wide-Awakes" in 1860 and worked with enthusiasm for the election of Lincoln at that time. Mr. Gibbs had been under the impression that the funeral was held May 3rd instead of May 4th, but said he must acknowledge, in view of the printed record, that is memory was in error.

Many Soldiers at Services. Judge T. B. Orear said yesterday that he was one of the Morgan county people who attended the Lincoln obsequies in Springfield. He went to the state capital from the Orear home north of Orleans, taking the train at Orleans station. There were quite a number of others from that community who attended but Judge Orear said he could not remember by name anyone who accompanied him. He said that he had never forgotten the impression that the great throng made upon him, as thousands passed by the casket to take a final look at the martyr president. Not only was he impressed by the number of people but by the great air of sadness which pervaded the whole of the immense throng. The people seemed to feel a sense of personal loss such as they might have with reference to a near relative. There were a great many soldiers in the throng, and with them the deep feeling manifested was especially noticeable.

Some Incidents of the Day. In giving his recollections of the Lincoln funeral Mr. Ensley Moore said:

"I left Jacksonville about 9 p. m., May 3, 1865, accompanied by Francis Mitchell, son of the Principal of the J. F. Academy, and by Miss Kate Moores, then a ward of Joshua Moore. We sat or stood on the steps of a car to Springfield, owing to the crowd aboard the train.

"At Springfield we went directly to the home of Mr. Daniel Van Gundy, whose wife was Miss Moores' aunt. We, Mitchell and I, left Miss Moores at her uncle's, and went up to the State House, as the capital was then called. We there went into the chamber of the House of Representatives where Mr. Lincoln's remains lay in state on a beautiful catafalque. The guard of honor of Federal soldiers were in charge. Around the cornice of the room were quotations from Mr. Lincoln's utterances, one being, 'Rather than surrender on principles, I would be assassinated on the spot.' I think he said this first in that very room in 1858. Certainly he said substantially the same words in his speech in front of the old State House in Philadelphia, Pa., on his way East to be inaugurated. We, Mitchell and I, gazed upon the face of the illustrious dead, and passed on out of the building.

"Going to the Cheney House, we found my step-cousin, J. Wilson Thompson, had secured a chair, in which he expected to spend the night every place in the city being crowded. We took him to Mr. Van Gundy's and let him sleep in the room with us. The next day, Thursday, May 4th, we took Miss Moores, and again went in and looked upon Mr. Lincoln's face, for the last time.

"Not to extend this statement too far, I will mention two circumstances which especially impressed me the day of the funeral—May 4.

"Gen. John Cook was the host of Gen. Joseph Hooker, grand marshal of the funeral procession. The house of Gen. Cook was up on a terrace, and had a stoop several feet high in front of the entrance door. As we walked around, before the funeral, I saw Gen. Hooker standing up on this stoop, arrayed in his uniform as major-general, and looking the hero of 'the battle in the clouds' as he was called. His pose was probably unpremeditated, but a sculptor or painter could have asked nothing better.

"There was a choir of three hundred voices gathered on the north portico of the State House. As the body of Mr. Lincoln was borne out to the hearse the choir sang, 'Children of the Heavenly King, As ye journey sweetly sing.' As this music came upon the air it seemed to me as if the sorrow of the nation took body, and rose on the wings of song.

"In those days railroad facilities were very poor, so, the afternoon after the funeral, we came home, and as we had freight cars with only plank seats, many of us boys rode home on top of the cars.

"Owing to the crowd in Springfield, the night of May 3rd, every place suitable was utilized. Profs. Wm. D. Sanders and Rufus Nutting of Illinois College, slept in a church, using the cushions for pillows and mattresses. Henry H. Wells, of Detroit, a nephew of Mr. Nutting was with them.

"There must have been from three or five hundred to a thousand persons from Jacksonville, or Morgan county, in Springfield, that day."

Near the President's Home. Among the persons who attended the Lincoln funeral at Springfield was Mrs. John B. Joy of Joy Prairie. She went with her father, Julius Pratt of honored memory, and well remembers the sad occasion. She was deeply impressed by the many decorations and emblems of mourning on every hand and will never forget the sorrowful procession that filed through the state house to take a last look at the remains of the man who had so suddenly been called from earth. Her father knew the departed president and was a staunch supporter of him and his work. Mr. Pratt and daughter managed to get a place in the corner of the doorway of the Lincoln residence and from that hallowed and historic spot they viewed the solemn procession as it filed slowly through the streets. It was hard to get any kind of accommodations in the capital city but the two managed to get along all right.

J. H. Hackett's Recollections. "I was one of those who attended the funeral of the lamented Lincoln. I was obliged to ride to Springfield on the top of a box car and on the way my hat blew off and I bought another which was stolen while I was at dinner. Lincoln's body lay in state in what was then the state house and now the Sangamon county courthouse. I saw the body taken from the train and placed in the hearse which was drawn by six white horses from St. Louis.

"I was living at the State Hospital for the Insane at the time and Dr. Andrew McFarland, the superintendent, had E. P. Jones, the head farmer, rig up a four-horse team to take some of the employees overland, but on account of bad roads they didn't arrive in Springfield in time to join the procession to Oak Ridge cemetery.

"I took my turn in the procession viewing the body which lay in state guarded by soldiers in the state house. I had never seen him while living, but would have known it was Lincoln."

Miss Eliza Cully of 1159 West Lafayette avenue said yesterday that she well remembered going to Springfield for the Lincoln funeral along with her father and other members of the family. The great throng and the general sorrow manifested have never been forgotten. Others known to have attended are J. L. Sims, Mrs. Edmund Blackburn, A. W. Pitner, James A. Cook, J. A. Ayers with his father, M. P. Ayers, and Capt. F. C. Taylor. Charles P. Gillett has in his possession a wreath of arbor vitae which had a place on the Lincoln casket and which was subsequently given to his father, U. G. Woodman greatly prizes the mementos of mourning worn by his father, an honorary bearer at the Lincoln funeral.

M. H. CARROLL GIVES HIS RECOLLECTIONS OF LINCOLN

When a Boy He Rode on Carriage Which Conveyed Lincoln From Jacksonville to Winchester for a Debate With Douglas There.

There are yet a few persons in this vicinity who had the privilege of seeing the immortal Abraham Lincoln while he was alive and later attending the funeral at Springfield. Among these is M. H. Carroll, so well known in this community. He said to a Journal reporter:

In 1858 my parents lived near the Point, five and a half miles west of the city, and one day when at school, taught by the veteran Dr. Grant at the Point, and at recess time a carriage driven by A. G. Link, keeper of a livery stable here for many years, went by. The day before there had been a debate in Jacksonville between Lincoln and Douglas, both candidates for the U. S. senate. The affair took place in the square by the side of the old courthouse which stood in the southwest quarter of the space. A platform had been erected at one side of the building and on it the speakers stood. Next day they were to debate in Winchester and Mr. Link furnished the rig to convey Douglas and I think the one in which Lincoln rode was driven by Mac Sprinkle.

The vehicles I do not distinctly remember but they were stylish, after the manner of a barouche and each drawn by four horses. The one conveying Douglas came first and I jumped on behind and clung to the springs and axle and rode about a mile when Mr. Link saw me and struck at me with his long whip and made me get off.

The other carriage was a mile or so behind and I started back and met it about where Vincent Richardson used to live, the place now occupied by the Misses Mayfield. I immediately hopped that and was not discovered by the driver and rode with Lincoln to the suburbs of Winchester, or nearly so.

In the carriage with Douglas were Murray McConnell, Stephen Dunlap, I think, and Benjamin Bristow. Douglas had lived in Winchester in his early days and there was a great gathering. The people had a barbecue dinner and I managed to get something to eat as I hadn't a cent of money in my pocket. I didn't get back till the next day and then walked the distance except when helped a little by some passing farm wagon. I do not recall the companions of Lincoln in the carriage in which he rode. The affair at Winchester attracted a tremendous crowd and everything went off in an orderly manner and though Douglas had such a host of friends Lincoln was treated all right.

Later my father moved to Springfield and I was at work for a man named Brady, manager of a restaurant, and early the morning of April 15th I was taking down the shutters when a newsboy came along with the Journal and told me President Lincoln had been assassinated the night before in a theatre in Washington. I was stunned by the news and soon it was spread like wildfire all about the city. There were in Springfield at that time four engine companies, the old fashioned hand power, a hook and ladder company and a bucket brigade. I belonged to the hook and ladder organization and as we had ladders and were expert climbers we were ordered to drape the city hall and the columns and various parts of the state house which was in the middle of the square and is now the Sangamon county courthouse.

The day of the funeral all the towns and cities almost were represented by their hook and ladder or fire companies, a good many coming down from Chicago. There must have been 3000 volunteer firemen there in all and it devolved on us to entertain them as some of them came beforehand and were there two or three nights.

We went out to Camp Butler and borrowed from the government several thousand blankets and camped our visitors in any vacant building we could get. We cooked hams and fed them the best we could and they were well entertained, I think.

We all made an imposing part of the procession as we marched about the city and out to Oak Ridge the day of the funeral. I think there were by far more firemen in line than of any other organization, though the Masons, Odd Fellows and many other bodies turned out.

I remember seeing from Jacksonville Gus Fay, John W. King, the jeweler; Jim Mitchell, later chief of the Jacksonville fire department, and others whose names I do not now recall. It was surely a great day and the soldiers with the civilians made an imposing procession.

C. P. OFFICIALS HERE.

A special car over the C. P. & St. L. arrived in the city last night carrying officials of the road who are making a tour of inspection. The party includes W. C. Hurst, general manager; W. J. Carpenter, president of the Terre Haute & Indiana R. R.; H. W. Berger, auditor; W. C. Whitney, train master; C. S. Branch, superintendent of motive power; G. W. Ingrund, master mechanic. They will leave Jacksonville this morning for Peoria.

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md.—"I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health."—Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDNER, 1632 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ROBERT HENRY BEGGS.

The following deserved tribute to R. H. Beggs, from the Central Christian Advocate will be of interest here, where Mr. Beggs was graduated from Illinois college in the class of 1868.

In the midst of the multitude that no man can number that moves across the stage in each generation, one discovers now and then a life so complete, so full, so useful, so appreciated, that to him can be applied the declaration of the sage, "I have lived." Robert H. Beggs lived. The whole cycle was traversed by him. He began his boyhood climb in poverty; he knew the vigor of poorly rewarded toil; he paid the hard price of a farmer boy's fine education; he laid the foundations of his life in absolute character fidelity, independence, industry and service; he passed on and up into academic distinction, into prosperity and a wide and commanding influence; and on December 14, full of years and with a life wonderfully enriched by study, travel, reflection and the heavy service of mankind, he passed to his long reward.

Robert Henry Beggs was born on an Illinois farm, September, 1844. He worked his way through school and college. He grasped a well-earned degree. He was by nature a thinker, a teacher. He was for a generation principal of Denver schools, being for many years head of the great Whittier school—in which the poet had a personal interest—the largest school west of Chicago. Incidentally, purely on the side, so you would never discover it from any word of his, he also laid the foundations of a large fortune, investing a few hundred dollars with a relative and organizing the great mercantile establishment of Crews-Beggs Dry Goods Company, one of the best and most substantial in the West.

It was given to this writer to observe the various phases in the evolution of this remarkable personality. The closest possible friendship was ours. In its transparency we observed the quiet, reticent schoolmaster, the thinker, the modest helper, more out into the wide spaces of influence. He became one of the chief pillars on which the University of Denver leaned. A munificent stream of money began flowing from his hand into its treasury; he became its chief counselor. His rare judgment was summoned by the Church to plan the reconstruction of The Book Concern, and it is not too much to say that his minority recommendation outlines in effect what is today the plan on which our great publishing enterprise is built.

He traveled in foreign lands. He wrote profoundly. He became a sympathetic citizen of "the world." He was a patriot, not "my country, right or wrong," but "my country may she be right or made so." And all the while he was the same reticent, gentle, silent philosopher, seeing what he looked at, understanding and remembering.

It is this last phase that endeared him to the poor, who really came into the inner inclosures of his life. He was incapable of egotism. He was a thinker; and thinkers do not carry big drums. In his life he was beautiful. No stain dashes his escheatone. His life as a schoolmaster kept him young; his life as citizen and traveler kept him abreast of the age. To us, personally, he was a prop and counselor. With Bishop Walden and Bishop Smith and Robert T. Miller we place his name for wise thinking on the great matters of our economy and the mighty matters of the Kingdom.

An insidious disease came upon him some years ago, which threw him into occasional melancholy, or rather into into melancholy but into the thought of death. He was not afraid to die. He spoke of it to us as the philosopher and the devout Christian speaks. But the thought was on him like a cloud, and the thought of his incomplete literary work. But all this passed. Out in sunlit California all the old zest, wit, wisdom, gentle grace, came back, and in a second's time, quick as thought, Robert Henry Beggs, LL.D., passed up to where there is the life indeed. The funeral was held in Christ church, Denver, whither the body was taken from his beautiful mansion at University Park. The speakers were Hon. Aaron Gove, LL.D., Principal Smiley, Chancellor Buchtel and this writer. There was no black crape. There was the royal purple of a royal and enriching spirit.

COMMISSIONERS BUSY IN PLANNING FOR WORK

Mr. Widmayer Will Use Triplicate Requisition System—Bills to be Filed Monthly—Mr. Cox Will be Active in Street Improvement Work.

Down at the city hall Mr. Widmayer, commissioner of accounts and finances, has been busy the last day or two making the preliminary preparations for his work. He has not yet, of course, arranged all details but said yesterday that one thing he had determined upon and that is with references to the purchase of supplies. As commissioner of accounts and finances he becomes the purchasing agent for the city and will use a requisition system. Requisitions will be in triplicate and one copy will be kept at the office, one for the department requiring the purchase and the third for the firm from whom the purchase is made.

Mr. Widmayer is going to request all merchants and others with whom the city has business relations to file their bills each month accompanied by the requisition orders. This does not mean necessarily that bills can be paid promptly each month, although the council will be extremely glad to make such an arrangement if at all possible. It does seem that the commissioner believes that if bills are filed each month that it will be much easier to check them promptly and that the practice will save time for both the business men and the department.

The system will also make it possible to determine with definiteness each month just what the city's financial condition is. For the record of bills filed and unpaid, added to the floating indebtedness, would indicate the full amount of what the city owes. (With bills filed only every six months or once a year it is not possible to tell the total amount of indebtedness from time to time. Mr. Widmayer has no very radical plans to put in effect, but it is evidently his intention to conduct the office along the best lines of business administration.

Commissioner Cox has been busy this week, in company with Street Commissioner Spaulding, in inspecting culverts, sewers, pavements and sidewalks, and in general in familiarizing himself with the needs and duties of the department. Some special sewer work needs early attention, and there is some work to be done on the unpaved streets.

Yesterday Mr. Cox with Mr. Spaulding drove out into district No. 6 where a road leveler was being used, in order to inspect the work which is done with it. The leveler is used in connection with the ordinary road grader, and is said to produce very satisfactory results. Mr. Cox realizes that a number of the paved streets in Jacksonville are in very bad condition and that something should be done to improve them. Just as speedily as possible he hopes to take this matter up with the property owners in an effort to make the greatly needed betterments in a way which will be satisfactory to the property owners as well as to the general public.

IRVIN POTTER APPOINTED TEACHER AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

President Rammelkamp announced at the chapel exercises Tuesday morning that the trustees had appointed Irvin Bliss Potter as instructor in mathematics and high school visitor for next year. Mr. Potter is an alumnus of the college, having been graduated in the class of 1911. After leaving college, Mr. Potter had a year of business experience on the force of the Farrell bank of our city. Before going to Shelbyville, Mr. Potter held positions at Pittsfield and Lawrenceville. His work in the public high schools has been unusually successful. Each year he has been called to a better position.

Mr. Potter has been greatly interested in athletics. While he was in college he was a member of the varsity football team, and has acted as director of athletics in the high schools where he has taught. His basketball team won third place in the state tournament last winter. Mr. Potter, however, will have no official duties of coaching in connection with his position at Illinois.

It is the purpose of Illinois college to devote more attention to the coordination of its work with that done in the high schools. Mr. Potter will give a large part of his time to this work.

ATTRIBUTES DEFICIT TO "DRY" MONMOUTH.

Galesburg, Ill., May 4.—There was a profit of $40,000 yearly for the Rock Island Southern railroad hauling thirsty citizens of this city to Monmouth when Galesburg was dry and Monmouth wet, but when Monmouth went dry, this profit turned into a deficit of $750 the first year, according to a reply to a petition for a receivership filed by the majority stock holders today.

MARKET LETTERS

KANSAS CITY LI ESTOCK

Kansas City Stock Yards, May 3.—Although there is a feeling among stockmen that stocker and feeder prices have been too high for the past few weeks, and many feeders and grazers are holding back on that account, there were enough buyers here last week to absorb the supply at the highest prices of the year, 10 to 15 cents above level of the previous weeks. More than 13,000 head went out during the week, which brought the total for April up to 54,000 head, four thousand more than went to that trade in April last year. Dealers have been claiming that the stocker and feeder market was in line for a break, and signs of it came to the surface the last half of last week. Receipts today are 13,000 head and the stocker and feeder trade settled down to a basis 15 to 25 cents below the high time last week. Three different lots of good weaners, weighing 1000 to 1200 pounds average sold at $8.35 last week, all to Missouri men, and one buyer paid $8.75 for stock steers. T. E. Brittain, Roodhouse, Ill., took out a drove of 90 head of cows, he spoke of the general scarcity of cattle in his section due to the quarantine embargo, which interfered with the handling of cattle all last winter. Selected dehorned short horn feeders are selling at $7.75 to $8.00, useful cattle at $7.00 to $7.50, fancy stockers still above $8 in some cases. Choice short horn feeders sold at $7.75 to $8.00 carrying strong flesh, such as would sell out well on grass. Stock cows sold at $6.35 to $6.75 and stock heifers upwards to $7.65, choice thin necked bulls, $7.75 to $6.50. Early spring grass is considered more valuable for putting on flesh than grass at any other time of the season, which is a reason for the strong competition on that cattle least few weeks and the high prices resulting. From indications today prices this week will rule about a quarter lower than the average of last week.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET.

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, May 3.—Oliver S. Green with Walter Bros., reports for Monday, May 3rd: Cattle—20,000. Hogs—51,000. Sheep—12,000. Early the posted run of cattle was 21,000, and buyers showed a disposition to play a waiting game, which has been so popular for sometime, but by 10 a. m. the run was cut down to 20,000, and possibly 19,000 and that the demand was fairly good was soon in evidence, for buyers spent less time in each pen looking over the cattle than they usually consumed around two thirds of the total supply was yarded in the free area, and this made the market about as active in one division as the other. However those eligible for shipment to other markets and the good to choice kinds sold generally 5 to 10c higher than in the modified division. In the free area, $8.75 was paid for yearlings averaging 5.50 to $8.40, for weights 900 pounds and up to 1339 pounds. Many sales of good to choice from light to heavy bullocks $8.10 to $8.25, with a long strong $7.75 to $8.25, and many weighty steers, were casted at $7.90 to $8.15. All weights of fair to good to choice beef steers got good action, at steady to firm prices. Where any "slow deal" was noticed, it was on the plain heavy cattle and that dullness was worn off before the market closed.

Native beef cattle quotations:
Good to choice corn fed shandy to medium weights—$8.10 to $8.40.
Choice to prime heavy beefs—$8.00 to $8.35.
Good to prime yearlings—$8.15 to $8.80.
Common to good yearlings—$7.00 to $8.00.
Medium to good steers—$7.80 to $8.10.
Fair to medium warmed ups—$7.35 to $7.80.
Common to plain steers—$6.75 to $7.35.
Inferior to rough native steers—$5.85 to $6.65.
She stock, generally steady. Dairy cows were refused by some buyers who do not want "shiners." Canners dull. Bulls stronger. Calves dull and 25c lower.
Cows—$2.00 to $7.15.
Heifers—$5.10 to $8.25.
Bulls—$4.75 to $6.75.
With fancy yearlings—$7.50.
Common heavy calves to good vealers—$4.00 to $8.25.
Choice to prime vealers—$8.25 to $8.50.
A few extra prime—$8.75 to $9.00.
With the largest run of hogs for the year, prices 10 to 15c lower. Quality unusually good, and price variations narrow.
Mixed packing—$7.35 to $7.45.
Mediums and butchers—$7.47 1/2 to $7.52 1/2.
Poor to good heavy packing—$7.05 to $7.35.
Rough heavy—$6.70 to $7.70.
Pigs and throw outs—$2.00 to $7.25.
Sheep generally steady with last Friday. Only a short crop of yearlings. Lambs steady to 10c to 15c lower. Short crop numerous. Trade very uneven. Quality fully up to the standard.
Choice Colorado clipped lambs—$10.65.
Fed western clipped lambs—$7.00 to $8.85.
Fed western woolled lambs—$10.35.
Fed western woolled ewes—$7.25 to $8.00.
Native woolled ewes—$7.75 to $8.50.
Colorado fed lambs—$10.65.
Colorado fed clipped lambs—$7.75 to $8.85.
Native clipped lambs—$6.75 to $8.75.
Native clipped bucks—$2.50 to $6.50.
Native spring lambs—$7.50 to $10.50.

F. H. Heine of Quincy was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

FILE PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY AGAINST CAR COMPANY HEAD

CHICAGO, May 4.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed here today against Robert W. Crawford of the Crawford Locomotive and Car company of Streator, Ill., on behalf of the Streator National bank. It is alleged in the petition that Crawford's liabilities are $68,000 and that he owes the bank $30,000 on a promissory note executed June 11th, 1913, and due six months after the date of its issuance. The note was secured by bonds of the company, of which Crawford is the head, and a trust deed on the plant and property of the concern.

TWO MORE LIGHTS FOR BOULEVARD SYSTEM

Extension on South Sandy Street Will Insure Well Lighted Way to Library.

Two more lamps on South Sandy street will make complete the block from the square to West College avenue and will afford a well lighted way from the business district to the public library. Three lights were planned originally for Sandy street, the southernmost on Coverly's corner, but property owners with the probable assistance of the library board have made the addition possible. The boulevard lighting system will now include ninety-one lamps. The electric cable is complete around the square and on North Main street and but a small portion of the South Main cable remained to be laid Tuesday afternoon. Work of erecting the poles will begin within a day or so and the entire project promises to be completed well within the scheduled time.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

CANADIAN RESTRICTION OF EXPORTS RAISES WHEAT PRICE

Gains are not all held, the Close Being Weak at 1/4 to 3/4 Cents Advance—Corn Gains.

Chicago, May 4.—Canadian government restriction of exports had a bullish effect today on the wheat market here. Gains in price, however, were not all held, the close being weak at 1/4 to 3/4 above last night. Corn finished 3/4 to 5/8 up; oats at a shade off to 5/8 advance and provisions with a rise of 1/16 to 2/16.

Although the likelihood appeared remote that in any possible juncture the action of the Canadian authorities would have a material influence on supplies in the United States wheat shorts were quick to run for cover.

Higher quotations at Liverpool tended further to make the bear side of the market unpopular and it was not until mid-day that speculators ventured on a selling drive. Good support was encountered on the ensuing dip in prices and there was a quick rebound, which however, seemed to lose energy in the last fifteen minutes of the session. Disappointment at the apparent absence of urgent foreign demand and considerable to do with the comparative weakness of wheat during the late transactions. After trading hours a report was received from the east that 100,000 barrels of flour had been sold to Europe but belief prevailed that the announcement referred to old business, a purchase made about two weeks ago by the Dutch government partly in Minneapolis and the rest in Kansas City.

Corn developed strength largely as a result of Argentine advices telling of severe crop damage. Assertions, though, that European demand had turned to the United States were not confirmed. Shorts in oats took to cover owing to the bulge in other grain. There was also gossip that cash demand had much improved.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our "Mother's Friend" in which thousands of women have the most abundant confidence. They have used it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it impenetrable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from personal experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, has been given the most severe tests under most all trying conditions and is recommended by women who to-day are grandmothers and who in their earlier years learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women. "Mother's Friend" is declared by a multitude of women to be just what expectant motherhood requires.

IT RUINS HAIR TO WASH IT WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

SOME WAR TIME MEMORIES OF LINCOLN

President Declined Body Guard Sent From Ohio—Services Held in Jacksonville in Memory of President.

The regiment to which the writer belonged was ordered by Gen. Grant during the summer of 1864 to the defenses of Washington. The regiment belonged to the brigade commanded by Gen. Augur, a thorough going soldier though small of stature and rather insignificant appearance. The troops were not nearly sufficient properly to man the guns in the fort and do picket duty as it was not at any time supposed that there would be any fighting in that immediate vicinity but one bright summer day Gen. Early with his whole corps managed to get right in between Grant's army and Gen. Augur's brigade. It was in the afternoon and it was indeed a solemn occasion for had the rebel chieftain known how few men were between him and the Washington he could easily have marched right into the capital from sheer force of numbers.

The next morning was Sunday and it rose bright and clear and all nature was smiling but not the men in the forts. Ohio had been regarded as a very loyal state so it was complimented by being permitted to send to Washington from each county a man and black horse to serve as a body guard for the president but when they arrived he refused to have them and sent them over to the provost marshal who used them as mounted police in the city much to the disgust of the boys.

The regiment of the writer was in the center of the line and his company was stationed at Fort Reno. His special duty was inside the ramparts caring for the magazines while a few rods away were the headquarters of Gen. Augur.

Early in the morning there was without a sound of hoofs and there drew up at Gen. Augur's place a carriage followed by almost a hundred cavalrymen on black horses. From the vehicle there descended a tall man in an ancient linen duster, a seedy stove pipe hat on his head and at once all knew it was the president. He knew the condition of things and declared his intention of staying with the boys and when Secretary Stanton was unable to dissuade him from it he said the Ohio boys should go along but as soon as they reached Fort Reno they were dismissed and sent back.

Gen. Augur advised the president to return for all might he died before night but President Lincoln was not made that way and spent the entire day along the extended line of fortifications cheering the men and doing all in his power to keep up the spirits of the soldiers. That night reinforcements arrived and all was well.

That eventful morning in April, the writer, who was working his way through Illinois college, was occupied on the premises of Prest Sturtevant when that good man came out and told the awful news. It seemed as if it couldn't be and that the wires must have stated what was not true. There was mourning all over the city and Prest Sturtevant was called on to speak in the Congregational church which he did and later the pastor, Rev. Jas. G. Roberts, delivered a memorial sermon, both on the life and character of the martyred leader.

When the day for the funeral at Springfield arrived everybody who could get away planned to go to the capital. The writer rode with his sisters in a freight car with board seats, the best accommodations practicable and he well remembers that the late Henry Irving, the carpenter and contractor, was one of the passengers in the car. It seemed as if the whole state had visited the city and all were in mourning.

The remains lay in state in the rotunda of the state capital and were surrounded by a military guard. A ceaseless procession filed in at one door and walked by the sacred casket. Each building in the city had something on it indicative of the sad occasion and men seemed to vie with each other in showing respect to the memory of one so beloved and respected.

Several eminent military men were in charge of the procession and the writer especially recalls Gen. Joseph Hooker as he rode his horse about the streets in the performance of his duties.

A large choir was one of the features of the day and Prof. W. D. Sanders was asked to be one of the singers. When Prof. Crampton heard that Prof. Sanders had been invited he remarked with affected displeasure that they had not invited him. A great throng visited Oak Ridge and back horses were driven till they almost fell in their tracks as the day was rather warm.

Never did a city witness a sadder day and never was the memory of a man more thoroughly honored and never was more genuine public sorrow manifested than on that occasion.

LONG JOURNEY CONTEMPLATED

Happy Stanley of Concord was in the city yesterday making preparations for an extended trip by water. He and a friend, C. E. Peebles of Iowa, are soon to start down the Illinois river in a gasoline launch and may keep on till they reach New Orleans. From that place their plans are not definite but they are thinking of starting northward by land and working their way as far as Canada. They will carry camping outfit, guns, fishing tackle, and be ready for almost any emergency.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Funeral services for Mrs. R. R. Staley will be held at two o'clock this afternoon at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Sanders, 470 South East street, and will be conducted by Rev. Percy W. Stephens, pastor of the First Baptist church. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES

Berlin, via London, May 4—(9:17 p. m.)—A school holiday was ordered today in Germany in celebration of the victory which the German general staff and the Austro-German war department claim their forces have won over the Russians in West Galicia.

German military critics emphasize the importance of the Austro-German success, particularly in its connection with the advance of German forces to the eastward of Memel through the Baltic provinces.

London, May 4—(7:40 p. m.)—Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, announced in the house of commons this evening that the British government had requisitioned the entire supplies of meat from Australia and New Zealand.

The supplies that were not needed for the army, Mr. Runciman added, would be marketed for the benefit of the civil population in order to prevent such increase in price as would arise from a shortage of supplies.

Paris, May 4—(10:20 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued this evening.

"We have continued to progress in Belgium, in the region of Steensstraete.

"In Champagne in the region of Beaussjour, the Germans made three successive attacks but were repulsed with heavy losses.

"In the Argonne, we have made progress at Bagatelle. We found on the ground many Germans dead left from the fighting of May 1st.

"A further attack has enabled us to complete our gains in the wood of LePretrae."

London, May 4—(10 p. m.)—The British war office tonight made public the following official communication:

"The loss of ground which resulted from the unexpected use of asphyxiating gases by the enemy last week necessitated a readjustment of our line in front of Ypres.

"This adjustment which has been in progress in the last few days was successfully completed last night.

"The new line runs west of Zonnebeke.

During the last 24 hours the situation has been normal along the whole front with the exception of one half hearted attack by the enemy northeast of Ypres last evening. It was beaten off."

Petrograd, via London, May 4—(9 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued today:

"In the Khor-Daimon region of the Caucasus, our troops, after two days fighting, opened a determined offensive against Turkish corps under Khali Bey and completely defeated the enemy.

"The Turkish losses may be estimated by the fact that more than 3,500 Turkish dead were found on the battlefield, 900 of whom were picked up in the central sector of the battle line along a front of 800 paces.

"At Dilman we captured a Turkish hospital, together with its entire staff.

"Pursuit of the defeated enemy continues."

Constantinople, May 4, via London—(6:27 p. m.)—The following statement was issued today at the war office:

"In order to increase the limited extent of ground he held near Avilburnu, the enemy yesterday attempted a new advance on his left wing but as a consequence of our counterattacks he was in the first place driven back with heavy losses into very rocky valleys and afterwards repulsed to the coast. In the meantime our artillery caused a fire on board one of the transports, after which other transports quickly retired.

"The British warship Agememnon which attempted to shell Bulair, was struck yesterday by four shells and obliged to retire, being no longer able to fire.

"In an engagement between our gendarmes and seven armed sailors who landed with officers from a submarine on the uninhabited island of Biamat, in the Aegean sea, the latter were killed."

HOME FROM CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Waddell have returned from a journey to the Panama exposition at San Francisco after a pleasant trip of thirty days duration. They went out by the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from Denver, taking in Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City and other interesting points. Leaving San Francisco they journeyed to Los Angeles where they visited Mr. Waddell's brother, Allen, and other friends. They also went to San Diego, DelMonte, Santa Barbara and other points in the Golden State. The return journey was made by the Santa Fe and they made a stop at the Grand Canyon but were unfortunate in encountering a heavy snow storm but they managed to enjoy something of the nighty spectacle by a ride of eight miles along the rim.

K. T. ANNUAL INSPECTION.

The annual inspection of Hospitalier Commandery No. 21, Knights Templar, was held last night in Masonic Temple with E. Sir, Milton E. Robinson, Grand Junior Warden of the state, as inspecting officer.

PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING.

The parent-teachers' meeting of the First Ward will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. A musical program and reading will be given by Miss Powell followed by a social hour. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

MURRAYVILLE CITIZENS OBJECT TO COW GRAZING ON PUBLIC STREETS

Town Board Brings Suit Against Samuel Story—Jury Decided in Favor of Story.

An interesting trial was heard in Squire John HWD's court of Murrayville Tuesday, when the case of the Town Board of Murrayville vs. Samuel Story trespass came up. The town board took objection to Mr. Story pasturing his cow on the streets, although he had the animal tied.

The city case was non-suited and it was tried under the state law. Mr. Story was represented by Isaac Writlock of Murrayville and Judge M. T. Laymon of this city and the town of Murrayville by Attorney J. O. Priest of Jacksonville. After hearing the evidence in the case the jury unanimously decided in favor of Mr. Story. The board has twenty days in which to file an appeal. The jury was Felix Gordon, Dr. C. E. Waters, William McKean, Alex Lovell, Lurton Tucker and William Still.

Social Activities

Entertained for
Mr. and Mrs. White.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. White of New York City, who are guests at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Cox, 639 South Diamond street, were guests of honor at a party given by Mrs. Cox's son and daughter, Alfred and Edna Cox, last night, a number of those present being members of the Sans Souci club. As has formerly been said, Mr. and Mrs. White are on their way to the Panama exposition and stopped over here to visit with relatives. They could almost be classed as "newlyweds," for they have only been married since Dec. 30, 1914. A pretty romance is connected with their love affair. Mr. White was making a trip around the world and Mrs. White, who was formerly Miss Eloise Rice of Brookline, Mass., was with a party of sixteen, also touring the old world. Incidentally both parties met in Rome in June and as a result a friendship was formed which later ripened into love. Mr. White delighted the company last night with his trip to India and of his voyage around the world. He also had a number of photographs which were extremely interesting. He is a good narrator and his story was all too short. Mrs. White is a charming woman and found the basis for a good story in the trouble her party encountered in Switzerland, when the war broke out. During the evening delightful refreshments were served.

surroundings of the Crouch home to illustrate her address.

The following election of officers was held:
President—Mrs. A. B. Williamson.
Vice president—Mrs. J. Marshall Miller.

Secretary—Mrs. J. Edgar Martin.
Treasurer—Mrs. D. E. Kennedy.
Miss Mary Knollenberg, as chairman of the nominating committee reported on the officers. Mrs. Ben Lorton and Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson were appointed as delegates to the District Federation meeting to be held in Pittsfield. After the business session a social hour was spent and light refreshments were served. Miss Smith was presented with a beautiful bouquet by the members.

The Misses Rea Give Marshmallow Toast.

Misses Lyndall and Bessie Rea recently gave a marshmallow toast at their pleasant country home at Zion, in honor of Misses Gertrude Johnson and Edna Sorrells, both of Murrayville. The decorations consisted of ferns and wild flowers, which were artistically arranged. A very happy time was spent and all regretted the shortness of the evening.

Those present were Stella Covington, Ivalon Gibson, Edna Curtis, Alma Mutch, Amelia Lamb, Neva Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. John Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Gunn, Messrs. Luther Douglas, Claude Gunn, Howard Curtis, Dean and Lela Lamb, Orville and Dewey Mutch, Charles Dunnaway and Bryan Sheppard. Those from a distance were Grace and Truman Gibson of Jacksonville and Miss Opal Morris of Roodhouse.

Country Club Meets
With Mrs. Colwell.

Mrs. Margaret Colwell entertained the Woman's Country club Tuesday afternoon at her home in Alexander and the assembled members and guests enjoyed an excellent book review at the hands of Mrs. E. J. Kumble. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. W. Rawlings, Mrs. W. H. Hinrichsen took the chair and the meeting was opened with song. For the present year "the songs which never die" have been given particular attention and at this meeting the ladies joined in "The Old Oaken Bucket."

"Jeanette of the Dunes" was the book selected by Mrs. Kumble and her review was full of interest for all. Spring flowers were used in decoration and the social hour as well as the program was all that could be wished. The meeting two weeks hence will be held at the home of Mrs. Rawlings.

Farewell Party for Miss Florence Robinson.

The young lady employee of the Illinois School for the Deaf gave a party Monday night for Miss Florence Robinson who expects to leave in a few days for her home in St. Sterling. Light refreshments were served and the evening was passed most pleasantly. Among the guests were Mrs. Sarah Sanders and Messrs. Margaret McGuire, Florence Robinson, Cecil Blakely, Bessie Blakely, Fannie Munton, Dolly Pence, Winifred Keltz, Helen Keltz, Sophia Kohl, Dixie Brown, Mary Tankersley, May Carroll, Jennie Green, Percy Blevins, Constance Wilding and Maggie Boston.

DEATH OF WILLIAM ROSS IN LOS GATOS, CALIFORNIA

Brief mention was made recently of the death of William Ross in Los Gatos, Calif., April 19. He was a student of Illinois college in "52-53" and was a member of the Phi Alpha Literary society. At the last triennial meeting of the society Mr. Ross wrote a very fine letter regarding his love for the society and his deep regret in not being able to attend. The San Jose, California Mercury Herald had the following to say of his life:

"Santa Clara county has lost another good citizen, his church a devoted and efficient member and his family a fond and affectionate husband and father in the death of Mr. William Ross at Los Gatos on the 19th day of this month.

"He leaves a widow, two daughters and three sons to mourn his loss.

"He was justly proud of his Scotch-Irish ancestry and of the State of Illinois, where he was born in 1855, where he was married in 1883 to Miss Mary P. Ballard and where he spent one-half of his long life, extending slightly beyond four-score years.

"Handicapped by a lack of robust health when a young man, he engaged in banking, but finding this life too confining, he became a farmer, in which enterprise he was eminently successful.

"Prompted by failing health in 1875 he came to San Jose, where a residence of a few years so improved his health and strength that he was led to establish an ideal orchard home in the Willows.

"After reaching the three-score years and ten point in life he retired from active industry and finally settled down in a beautiful cottage home in our Gem City.

"Although in comparatively delicate health all the active years of his long life abounded in good works. He was deeply and constantly interested in everything that tended to better the conditions of the community in which he lived.

"No one in trouble or in need of a helping hand ever appealed to him in vain.

"He was a man of unswerving integrity and of deep religious convictions. His consistent Christian life made him greatly beloved in his family, in his church and wherever he was known.

"While his eyes are closed in the sleep that knows no awakening; his voice forever silenced; his familiar footsteps will be listened for in vain; his seat at the fireside is vacant, yet the influence of his faultless example and the memory of his sweet and tender sympathy can never be forgotten."

SEVEN SURVIVORS OF TRAWLER CRUISER LAND AT ABERDEEN

ABERDEEN, Scotland, May 4.—(8:30 p. m.)—Seven members of the crew of the Trawler Cruiser of whom four were wounded by the shell fire of a German submarine, have been landed here by a collier. They say that the Cruiser was approaching Aberdeen harbor, laden with fish when the submarine appeared and opened fire. One shell struck the trawler's bridge instantly killing four members of the crew. The survivors assert that the remaining seven hands took to their boat and were rowing away when the submarine fired again, wounding four of the men and causing the boat to capsize. The men thrown into the water were rescued from drowning by the collier.

Who's in town? BALL FAVORS WITHDRAWAL OF ALL BASEBALL LITIGATION

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 4.—Phil Ball, vice-president of the St. Louis club of the Federal League and large stockholder in the league proper, tonight declared himself wholly in accord with the proposition for the withdrawal of all litigation involving interests of the Federal League and organized baseball as discussed by Ban Johnson, president of the American League at Boston tonight. When he had heard the report of the interview with Johnson, Ball said:

"Yes, I made the suggestion but only in this way. Johnson and I were watching the opening game of the American League at Chicago and I remarked that I would rather see baseball played on the field than in the courts. Mr. Johnson replied 'so would I' and that is all there was to the matter."

LINCOLN BELIEVES SYSTEM OF PAY SHOULD BE CHANGED

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Robert T. Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors of the Pullman company, frankly told the United States commission on industrial relations today that he believed the system of paying sleeping car porters should be changed and that wages of Pullman car conductors should be increased. Both of these subjects, he said, would be taken up by the company's directors in the near future.

The son of President Lincoln, freely discussed the subject of tips upon which negro porters are compelled to rely for a living. He insisted however, that employment afforded the negro by the Pullman company had been one of the most uplifting opportunities the race has had.

THORPE, SLAYER IN WHITE HALL KILLING GIVES HIMSELF UP

Roodhouse, Ill., May 4.—Eliot Thorpe, aged 17 years, son of a well known family here, today is held in the Greene county jail at Carrollton awaiting arraignment on a charge of killing Lloyd Whitworth, aged 19 years, as the culmination of the courtship they paid pretty 17 year old Helen Mancell. Young Thorpe gave himself up yesterday after suffering a night of agony, so he said, filled with conscience stricken remorse over the outcome of his fight Sunday with Whitworth in the home of the girl.

The boy who faces a charge of murder is not inclined to converse of what happened when Whitworth fell mortally wounded. To jail attaches he said he acted in self defense.

Father Visits Thorpe. Thorpe's father visited him early today and consulted with his son for a long time.

Residents of this little town are in sorrow today, for both the lads figuring in the tragedy were well liked by those who knew them. Funeral arrangements have not been made by the relatives of Lloyd Whitworth. The body has been removed to the family home here. Word has been sent a brother, enlisted in the navy service, and other relatives and burial will be made upon their arrival.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE COMMENDS MISS OLMSTED'S WORK

Board of Education Will Be Asked to Reconsider Action Taken in Dispensing With Services of Professional Nurse.

The regular monthly meeting of the Morgan county anti-tuberculosis league was held Tuesday night at which the principal theme for discussion was the action of the board of education in dispensing with the services of a professional nurse. Members of the league together with many others are very much in hopes that the board may be persuaded to reconsider the action taken at the recent session.

The board members have provided for a teacher and an assistant at the open air school and have stated their only reason for not re-employing Miss Olmsted as professional nurse is a lack of sufficient funds. Members of the league feel that it is wholly impossible to carry on the work of the open air school in any desirable or consistent way without the services of a nurse. As a matter of fact the nurse's work has been considered a most important factor in the work of the school.

At the meeting last night there were various expressions of appreciation of the work done by Miss Olmsted and the members pointed out with some pride that Jacksonville has school inspection and is the only city in the state outside of Chicago having an open air school. The anti-tuberculosis league recommended Miss Olmsted to the board of education and have never had occasion to regret the action as they have kept in touch with her work and have found it of the highest order. Since Miss Olmsted's coming to Jacksonville her work has resulted in the establishment of school inspection and it was under her leadership that the open air school was initiated and she has been largely instrumental in its continued work since that time.

Another department of the work which Miss Olmsted had succeeded in establishing has been the classes for retarded children. These classes are conducted each Friday afternoon at the clinic by Dr. F. P. Norbury. He spends two hours there each week examining and testing the retarded children and as a result of his examination is able to make practical suggestions to teachers as to the way they should handle these pupils. Dr. Norbury will probably later on write a summary of his work with these children for the benefit of others of the same development.

The members of the league in considering these things which have been made possible largely through Miss Olmsted's intelligent direction were unanimous in expressing their confidence in her and in emphasizing the importance of the work which has been undertaken this year. The whole proposition will be laid before the board of education with an earnest appeal for a reconsideration of their action.

Miss Olmsted has three times refused to take positions elsewhere at higher salary simply because she felt that she had not yet fully established the work she had undertaken here.
